01 Executive Coaching

Are you ready to take your leadership and management to the next level? Do you need more support manifesting the vision you have for yourself and your business?

Great leaders and managers must strengthen themselves before they can build a strong team. Sometimes you need someone to help train you for this role and future roles as your organization expands.

We offer frequent, consistent coaching to business owners, executives and managers to enable their growth so they can grow their people and profit.

02 Employee Coaching

Do you have someone on your team who needs help building their confidence, creating healthy work habits or increasing their emotional intelligence?

Each member of your organization requires support, and employing a focused strategy with clear objectives and responsibilities can assist individuals in overcoming barriers to their success.

We provide regular, reliable coaching to staff, concentrating on specific areas of growth and responsibilities in alignment with the business owner's improvement goals.

Leadership and Management Training

“Managing Forward” is a 4-hour virtual training course occurring monthly. This class is designed for people managers and business owners looking to invest in their company leaders.

In this curriculum you will collaborate with other managers online, get proven tools to help with strategic goals integration, building confidence, coach the coach tips and a performance management system.

“Taking It Further” is a two day on-demand, on-sight training course we can bring to your market. This class is designed for veteran, new and future leaders who wish to take their leadership and management journey further.

In this curriculum you will collaborate frequently with other leaders, gain practical and tangible tools to use immediately and learn new ways to create vertical alignment in your organization to fuel growth.

04 ASCEND Peer Groups

“ASCEND” is a group of leaders who gather for the purpose of accountability, strategizing, collaboration, encouragement, networking and development. This model is successful when members commit fully to their own growth and to each other.

With monthly calls and live meetings twice annually, members are committed to transparency and feedback. They encourage each other to keep moving forward toward personal and professional goals. Group members commit to this investment for the sake of strengthening their leadership, thus creating growth in their teams and their businesses.
